FIFTY-SIX TO BE GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Senior Class to be Graduated This Year is Largest in History of Seymour Schools.

COMMENCEMENT FESTIVITIES

Junior Reception Will Be Held Next Friday Night—Graduation Exercises on May 27.

The Senior Class this year is composed of fifty-six members and is the largest to be graduated from the Seymour High School. The list of graduates will be announced next week, according to Thomas A. Mott, superintendent. At the same time the honor roll will also be made public.

Dr. W. A. Millis, president of Hanover College, will give the commencement address this year. The graduation exercises will be conducted at the Majestic theater on the night of Thursday, May 27. For the last two years the commencement program has been held at the Central Christian church but because of the large class this year the Majestic will be used on account of the large platform.

The Seniors are facing a busy week as many social events have been planned in their honor. The commencement week festivities will begin Friday night, May 21 when the Juniors will give a reception in honor of the graduating class. This will be held at the High School building and is one of the important events of the commencement social calendar.

The baccalaureate service will be held Sunday night, May 23, at the Central Christian church. The address will be delivered by the Rev. James Harold More, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The Juniors will attend this service in a body. The music for the service will be given by High School students.

The Senior class play will be given at the Majestic theater on Tuesday evening, May 25 and on the following day Senior class day will be observed at the High School building. The commencement exercises will be held on the following Thursday and the annual reception for the class by the alumni association is announced for Friday evening May 23.

MUCH WORK WILL COME BEFORE BOARD OF REVIEW

Consideration of Appraisements in Various Taxing Units to be Started June 7.

The Jackson county board of equalization will convene Monday, June 7, the law prescribing that the session shall begin the first Monday in June. Albert Luedtke, county auditor, has given notice officially that the meeting will convene on that date.

It is expected that the board will be confronted with much work, although it will probably not be as heavy as it was last year. The state board of taxation has taken over the appraisal of some classes of property which formerly was left to the county board of review to assess. The board will review the appraisements in the various taxing units to determine if they have been made uniformly so that one township will not have a heavier burden than another. After the board of review finishes its work the county auditor will make out the list of levies for 1921 and these will be filed with the state tax board for examination and approval. It is not believed that the tax board will order many horizontal increases or decreases in township appraisements this year as the assessors, as a rule, have endeavored to follow out the instructions of the state tax commissioners and the appraisements have been checked up from time to time by the representatives of the board.

NEW AREA PLEASES METHODISTS HERE

CHANGE OF INTEREST HERE

Episcopal Residence Will be Established in Indianapolis—Election of Bishops.

Local Methodists are much interested in the action of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in session in Des Moines, Ia., in creating Indiana as a separate Episcopacy. It has been known here for some time that an effort would be made to establish this state as a distinct episcopal unit and the reports made on the proposal have been followed closely by members of the church here.

Under the present system the Indiana conference, in which Seymour is located, and the Northwest Indiana conference have been aligned with the Cincinnati area while the Northern Indiana conference is under the jurisdiction of the Chicago area. While the work in this state has been conducted more or less as a unit, there will be many advantages in having the three conferences under a single episcopacy.

The creation of the new episcopacy means the establishment of an episcopal residence in Indianapolis. The resident bishop will have control of the new area. His residence will become the center of Methodist activities in Indiana.

Another feature of the new plan that is the number of bishops will be increased. Since the last general conference four years ago several bishops have died and this year fourteen will be elected. Of course, there is much interest in the appointment of a bishop for the Indiana episcopacy and as it will be a very desirable location it is believed that one of the older bishops will be sent to Indianapolis.

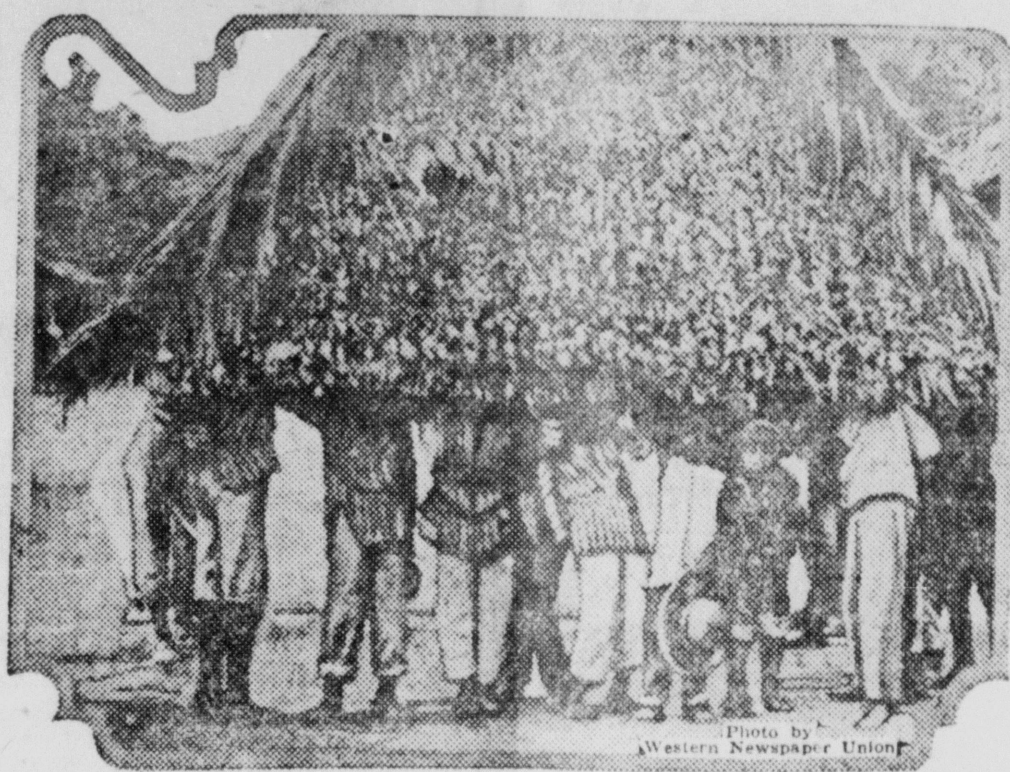

Among those mentioned for the bishopric the Rev. Dr. Ernest C. Wareing, editor of the Western Christian Advocate. Although this home is in Cincinnati where the publication is printed, his conference membership is in this state. Dr. Wareing has occupied a very prominent place in the councils of the church for several years and his election at the Des Moines conference is regarded very probable. He is a son-in-law of Mrs. J. H. Matlock, North Walnut street, and has many friends in this city who are watching the result of the election which will likely take place next week.

Relative to the establishment of the new episcopacy, the Rev. Charles W. Whitman, pastor of the local church said:

"Indiana Methodism and her sister denominations are greatly gratified to know that the general conference at Des Moines, Ia., has adopted the report giving Indiana an Episcopacy with residence in Indianapolis. Inasmuch as Indiana Methodism numbers a third of a million in membership and constituency she becomes a pivotal center not only in Methodism as a whole but in national affairs. It is a well known fact that Indiana Methodism is larger in proportion to membership than that of any other state. Also Indiana Methodism has four hospitals, two homes for the aged, three universities and is making provisions for a home for orphan children. Heretofore with episcopal residences in Cincinnati and Chicago, Indiana Methodism could not receive that personal oversight so essential to the interests of the church in this state. But under this new plan the bishop in Indianapolis will be enabled to give direct supervision to the most humble charge and individual need of the church. This more direct supervision, then, bespeaks a larger outlook for Indiana Methodism and for the larger interest of the Kingdom, and will receive the sympathetic co-operation of all christian people in the state."

UNION MEMORIAL SERVICES PLANNED

Committee of American Legion is Appointed to Arrange for Decoration Day.

FRATERNAL ORDERS TO JOIN

Membership Drive Will Start Monday and Continue One Week—Post Now Has 132 Members.

Plans for a Union Memorial Day in which the Civil war veterans, the American Legion and the fraternal organizations of the city will participate, is being arranged for Sunday, May 30. A committee, composed of Stanley Switzer, Rex Whitson and Kingsley Brinklow was appointed at the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion held Friday evening to arrange for the special service.

The American Legion voted to accept the invitation of the G. A. R. to join with them in the Memorial Day services. The Civil war veterans will make the trip to Riverview cemetery in automobiles and the American Legion and the secret organizations will form a line of march headed by the Seymour Concert Band. Complete arrangements for the service will be announced in a few days.

The ex-service men will wear their uniforms, it was voted at the meeting Friday evening. The dress will be uniform and the committee will announce through the press later whether or not the ex-soldiers will wear their full uniform or appear in O. D. trousers, wool shirts and black ties.

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Friday evening was one of the most interesting held by the Seymour post and the attendance was the largest. Several important matters were up for the consideration of the members.

POKER CRAZE HITS CITY OF VINCENNES

Women Are Playing as Well as the Men Folks, According to Vincennes Paper.

According to the Vincennes Sun, that city is undergoing a poker craze. "Bridge is being relegated to social oblivion according to best reports from over the wireless which carries the 'doings' of Vincennes which usually do not break into print," the Sun says.

Not only are the men folks involved in the game, for there are "mixed games" and there are also poker games for the women. Many games are said to be in progress throughout the "Old Post" town. The prosecuting attorney has his eyes on gambling conditions there and it is expected that a clean-up campaign will break out there at almost anytime.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR ART EXHIBIT

Canvases Painted by Members of Brown County Colony Will be Displayed May 24—June 10.

SIXTY PICTURES ARE RECEIVED

Exhibit to be Arranged at High School Building Will be Open to Public Without Charge.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Seymour Art League last night, final plans were made for the seventh annual art exhibit to be held at the Shields high school building May 24—June 10. The display this year will be devoted entirely to canvases by members of the Brown county colony of artists and for this reason the exhibit will be of especial interest to art lovers in this city. The exhibit will be open to the public without charge as all expenses are defrayed by the members of the League.

Although the names of the pictures to be displayed have not been announced the names of the artists and the number of canvases each will exhibit here follow:

Six by Miss L. Hartrath, of Chicago; six by Gustave Baumann, of Santa Fe, N. M.; six by Adolph R. Shulz, of Nashville; six by Miss Adolph Shulz, of Nashville; five by T. C. Steele, of Indianapolis; two by H. G. Davison, of Ft. Wayne; ten sketches by Frank M. Hohenberger, of Nashville; six by L. O. Griffith, of Chicago; six paintings and eight sketches by Charles W. Dalgren, of Chicago; two by Will Vauter, of Nashville, and five by Carl R. Kraft, of Chicago.

While all the artists who have pictures in the local exhibit do not live in Nashville they have studios in Brown county and are regarded as members of the Brown county group of artists.

The expenses of the exhibit are

JAMES M. NEWKIRK, AGED 22, LINEMAN, ELECTROCUTED

Employ of Interstate Public Service Company Killed While Making Repairs Near Williams.

James Moses Newkirk, 22 years old, of Bedford, was electrocuted Friday afternoon, three miles north of Williams, while working with a repair gang of the Interstate Public Service Company on a high-power line. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Newkirk of Indianapolis; two sisters, Miss Bess Newkirk of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Fred Richardson of Bedford, and four brothers, Noble, Charles and Fred Newkirk, of Bedford, and Eugene Newkirk, who is in the United States Navy, survive.

DANIELS PRAISES POLICY OF WILSON

Secretary Assails Plan of Roosevelt and Taft in Handling Affairs of Navy.

FEW SHIPS BUILT, HE SAYS

From 1904 to 1910 United States Lost Place as Second Naval Power to Germany, He States.

Washington, May 15.—Secretary Daniels today assailed the naval policies of former Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, declaring they permitted the United States to lose its place as second naval power of the world and allowed Germany to pass us. The greatest strides in the history of the navy were made under President Wilson, he declared.

Continuing his defense before the senate naval investigating committee, Daniels asserted the Wilson administration retrieved the navy from the position it drifted into under the "stand at" policy of Roosevelt.

President Taft, he said, failed to recover the lost ground and as a result Wilson administration inherited the whole situation.

"Between March 1913 and September 1916, the navy increased in personnel, efficiency and material more than in any similar peace period in our history," Daniels asserted. Measuring the navy strength by ships built and building, Daniels said it fell back under Taft. From 1904 to 1910 congress authorized only ten capital ships to Germany's twenty, he said.

"President Roosevelt, in his annual message in 1907, held that for the immediate future, there need be no increase in the number of units."

"It was in keeping with these recommendations that the United States at the outset of a new era in battleship construction adopted the standpoint policy by which we were foredoomed to lose our position as second naval power. No headway was made in the Taft administration toward retrieving the relative strength we had lost under Roosevelt."

"You have been told that the lack of large preparations before the war was a grievous fault in the present secretary of the navy. If that is true it is a fault that lies more at the door of preceding secretaries of the navy, presidents before the war and congresses before the one of 1912."

Under the Wilson administration we find that for the first time in years congress authorized a larger program than Germany. The Wilson administration took steps to secure for the United States that position this country had lost during the Roosevelt and Taft administration by reason of the policy which prevailed in those years.

In the first three years of the Wilson administration the navy became better organized, better officered, better manned and better supplied with ammunition and more efficiently and more economically governed than before in its history, Daniels said.

SPECIAL SESSION OF STATE LEGISLATURE SEEMS NEARER

CARRANZA SAID TO HAVE ESCAPED

Oregon However, Predicted Capture of Surrender of Fugitive President in Few Hours.

COLIMA HELD BY INSURGENTS

Huerta Calls Mexican Congress into Special Session to Name Provisional President.

El Paso, Tex., May 15.—Surrender or capture of President Carranza, today was predicted in messages reaching here from General Obregon.

Later unconfirmed reports here however, declared Carranza had eluded the forces of General Obregon which have had the fugitive president hemmed in near Apizco. Obregon's message here declared a strong revolutionists force had attacked Carranza's position for four days.

Jalisco and Colima states are held by insurgents today, according to word here. General Dienguez, Carranza commander having revolted late yesterday.

President Huerta has called a special session of the Mexican congress reports here said. The congress will choose a provisional president to act until the national elections July fourth.

Revolutionary leaders still claimed the capture of President Carranza south of Apizaco, was only a matter of hours.

Resistance of the federal troops was slackening they declared, adding that the circle enclosing the trapped president was being drawn tighter.

General Mariel and Barranca, Carranza commanders, have advised the president to attempt to cut his way out to the north and reach the United States border according to revolutionary advisers. General Cepeda, a former outlaw, was in command of the detachment which captured two Carranza trains with a quantity of ammunition today, rebel advisers said. At Chalehcomula, 25 miles northwest of Orizaba, Colonel Roch, rebel leader, was killed in a clash. Roch was captured and executed, revolutionary leaders said. They threatened to retaliate on captured Carranzistas.

British and French subjects asked their governments for protection. American Consul Foster and Arthur Hogg, the British vice consul arranged to send a special train under a white flag to remove foreigners who may wish to leave Mexico City. The train was guarded by an aviation unit.

DISARMAMENT TERMS WILL BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

Premier Millerand and Prime Minister George Confer at Hythe.

Hythe, May 15.—The treaty of peace with Germany will be enforced in every respect, particularly regarding disarmament, according to an official statement issued today, following a conference here between Premier Lloyd George and Premier Millerand. The Spa conference was postponed provisionally until June 21, contingent on the approval of other countries affected. A communication said enforcement of the treaty will not be "postponed until after the Spa meeting and that the conference in no way will interfere with the allies' determination to bring about immediate compliance with the armistice terms of the pact."

"Nickey" Arnstein Surrenders.

Arnstein arrived from Pittsburgh where he has been hiding. The total amount of bonds stolen will total close to $5,000,000, officials estimated.

Men, Women! If you do less than you should on your farm, at your desk, or in your shop, you are in some way weak. If you can't accomplish all that you expect or hope for, you are the silent sufferer from some hidden disease that affects one or more of the important nerve centers of the body. These neglected, or unknown conditions are usually diseases of the Pelvic System, which reflexly act upon the organs of elimination, digestion and the nervous system, which in turn has its influence on the brain. I have made a special study of the Nervous System, and have perfected methods that will cure where ordinary methods have failed. I will give you a searching and thorough examination FREE, thus determining the exact location of your trouble.

BEAR IN MIND that I have in Indianapolis one of the most modern and thoroughly equipped offices in the state with a man in charge who is ripe in years of experience, rich and mature in learning in his chosen work. OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, but it Brings a Message of Importance to every Woman.

Woodford, Vt.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before my child was born and it did wonderful work for me. My baby weighed eight and one-half pounds when born and I did not suffer many pains. You can publish this letter if you wish for I would not be without your medicine before child birth."

—Mrs. JOHN LIBERTI, Woodford, Vt.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

INDIANA STREAMS CAN REDUCE H.C.L.

440 Square Miles of Water Area in This State Could be Made to Produce More Fish.

SPORTSMEN ARE URGED TO ACT

State Department Will Stop Destruction of Game Fish During The Nesting Period.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15—Pointing out that Indiana has a water area of 440 square miles which could easily produce annually millions of fish if scientifically cultivated and consequently help relieve the H. C. of L. George M. Mannefeld, Superintendent of Fish and Game under The Department of Conservation, has addressed a letter to 100 fish and game protective associations in the state, calling attention to the spawning period of fishes now here. "This period is one of serious consequence," says Mr. Mannefeld, "and much of the fish crop of Hoosier waters depends on the success of this season when stocking of streams is accomplished through natural channels." The letter appeals to all true sportsmen to report the fish pirate and dynamite and urges cooperation in protection of streams that are planted with fingerlings from the state hatcheries.

"During the months of May and June," the letter says, "we may expect to see thousands of persons engaged in destroying black bass and other game fish during the nesting period. Seines, spears, dynamite and high-powered rifles will be employed by the fish pirates, and quite often a self-styled angler will be found busily engaged in trying to snare a bass off the nest, giving little thought to the fact that every nest destroyed means a loss of thousands of young which if protected, would grow and produce food for all.

"The lakes and streams of the state have for years been annually robbed in this manner, and the natural reproduction in our waters interfered with. In consequence the number of fish to be caught will not increase but is more apt to decrease. This solution is relieved somewhat by the restocking of public waters from the hatcheries operated by the fish and game division of The Department of Conservation, but the bass and other species of fish destroyed by sheer waste and recklessness far exceeds the number it is possible to rear.

"The Department is determined to break up this practice. In these days of increasing population future fishing depends wholly upon wise and appreciative citizenship. During the spawning period, therefore, it will be your duty to assist in bettering conditions."

The letter calls attention to the state hatcheries where the propagation of fish is about to begin, and extends an invitation to every angler to visit one or all of the hatcheries in order to obtain an idea of how this work is carried on. The division is operated entirely from the money obtained from fishing licenses and the state does not appropriate a dollar toward its maintenance.

CANDIDATES IN PRIMARY FILE EXPENSE ACCOUNTS

Traveling Expenses, Advertising and Postage Constitute the Principal Items of Expense.

A number of the candidates in the recent primary have filed their expense accounts with Frank L. Schornick, county clerk, as required by the Indiana corrupt practices act. They are permitted thirty days after the primary to file the expense list. All candidates regardless of the outcome of the election are required to itemize their expenditures.

Traveling expenses, advertising and postage constitute the principal items in the statements which have already been filed.

The Republican candidates who have filed are:

Nelson Smith, sheriff, $92; S. B. Lowe, prosecuting attorney, $184.39; J. Paul McMillan, treasurer, $30; Robert P. White, auditor, $17.05; Thomas J. Plummer, sheriff, $73.50; Frank B. Butler, joint senator, $17.50; Ezra Whitecomb, commissioner, Emery Berry, commissioner and Bruce Goss, representative, had no primary expense. All were without opposition.

The Democrats who have filed are: Sherman Sneed, sheriff, $35.43; John Belkman, commissioner, $15; J. Otis Hays, sheriff, $80.25.

Training Little Children

Punishments.

By Louise H. Peck

Many parents long for the time when their child shall "show reason," and then, the majority of them proceed to check the development of their little one's reasoning power by resorting to methods of punishment which tend to fill him with fear. Not infrequently they resort to slapping, spanking, whipping or even telling lies in order to frighten him into obedience.

This kind of training naturally produces a lawless child; for through fear of unjust punishment he resorts to dishonesty in self-defence; then too, the example of his parents teaches him to strike when angry. Let parents reverse this process, be honest and kind but firm with the tiniest child and teach him the importance of obedience and consideration for the rights of others; the cultivation of these qualities forestalls much trouble. When a child is disobedient let the parent "talk it over" with him in a reasonable, self-controlled way and reach a fair conclusion.

A mother cannot begin too early to train her little one. Before the child is old enough to understand words he understands the difference between her smiles and frowns and by the expression of her face she can teach even a little baby the difference between right and wrong. For example, take the habit of pulling the table cloth from the table; let her look directly into his eyes, her smiles all gone, take his hand from the cloth and shake her head with "No, no." She must have patience to do this well, but by these first lessons in obedience she is saving much future trouble for him, for herself and for society.

Of course there are times when discipline and punishment are necessary, and when parents need to correct their children they should do so in private. To permit another person to enter into the discussion or even overhear it and smile at such a time utterly runs the effect of the punishment and the lesson is lost if it is not clear to the little one that right conduct brings approval whereas wrong doing merits disapproval and discipline.

A very effective form of punishment is social isolation. For example, excuse a child from the room and make him sit facing a corner in another room by himself; at another time send him to bed early; at another, have him eat his meal alone, away from the other members of the family. If he quarrels with his playmates make him play alone while the other children are happy together, until he is willing to be agreeable. Another form of discipline is to make a child go without something of which he is very fond, no desert for dinner, or no candy for several days are punishments which have a good effect. But to lock a child in a dark closet or to threaten him with terrifying lies is as harmful and useless as whipping, for such treatment instills dishonesty and enmity into him.

Parents who use the rod or hand most often are generally the ones who complain that their children are naughty and disobedient. "Spare the rod and spoil the child" seems to be the one Scriptural text familiar to some irritable grown-ups. Why is it that the home is the last stronghold of whipping? The whipping-post disappeared long ago; whipping is no longer tolerated in schools, it is illegal even in prisons! Then why is it that many a gentle mother who cannot manage her own little one either whips him or reports his misconduct to his father, too often telling only her own side of the story, for in such cases the child is not allowed to appeal to the father as judge, but must submit to the whipping which his parents mete out to him at a time when they are tired and irritable. Let grown-ups cultivate self-control and justice and remember that wise parents never punish when they are angry but wait until they can see the child's misdeed from an impersonal point of view.

To associate anger with physical blows is to plant the seeds of fear in tiny children. Before we can replace war with arbitration among nations, we must do so in the home.

Tested Recipes

The following recipes reprinted from April Good Housekeeping by special permission, have been tested by Good Housekeeping Institute.

SOUR CREAM CAKE.

4355 Total Calories, 1/2 cupful margarin, 1 cupful sugar, 1/2 cupful molasses, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoonful salt, 270 Protein Calories, 1 teaspoonful nutmeg, 1 1/2 teaspoonfuls soda, 2 cupfuls pastry flour, 1 cupful sour cream, 3/4 cupful nut-meats, 3/4 cupful raisins.

Cream together the margarin and sugar; add the molasses and eggs well beaten; sift together the dry ingredients, reserving sufficient flour for dusting the raisins; add this alternately with the sour cream to the mixture. Chop the nuts and raisins fine, dust with the flour, and add. Beat well, pour into a large loafpan, and bake at 350 degrees F. for about forty-five minutes.

Mrs. Carl Olson, Clinton, Minn., Door County, Wisconsin, is especially famous for its cherry orchards and this is one of the favorite dishes of that section.

CHERRY CAKE.

2524 Total Calories—3 table-spoonfuls margarin, 1 cupful sugar, 1 egg, 2-3 cupful milk, 2 cupfuls pastry flour, 178 Protein Calories—2 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1 quart pitted cherries, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoonful salt.

Cream together the margarin and one-half the sugar; add the egg well-beaten and the milk alternately with the flour which has been sifted with the salt and baking-powder. Mix together thoroughly and spread evenly in a long sheet cake-pan. Place the cherries on top having mixed them well with the rest of the sugar. Sprinkle the whole lightly with cinnamon and bake in a 400 degree F oven. Dried cherries soaked until they are very plump may be used with good success.

Mrs. Edward Jacobs, Sawyer, Wis.

DRESSED FOR A PARTY

The pretty maid in the picture above is daintily dressed for a party. Upon an occasion of such importance as a birthday, even a little girl is allowed a frock of georgette crepe made with tucks in the skirt, sleeves and waist. Its special pride is narrow ribbon tied in little bows that finish bands about the sleeves and long and short ends that hang from the waist. Faille ribbon, in two colors, is used for girdles that tie near the front and have small bows with long ends. Sometimes one of the ribbons matches the dress in color, or both ribbons may differ from it so long as the contrast is pretty.

ART NEEDLEWORK by Edith M. Owen

GIRL'S SWEATER

Amber needles No. 5 and 11 balls of Shetland floss are used. Cast on 64 stitches, knit plain two inches, knit four, purl four, 17 inches. Knit plain casting on 48 stitches on each side for sleeves. Knit plain until the sweater measures 22 inches. Knit 71 stitches, place on stitch holder, bind off 18 inches, knit on remaining 71 stitches three ribs. Increase one stitch on the neck side every eighth row until the work measures five inches from the first increase. Bind off 48 stitches of the sleeve. Make second side the same, join, knit four and purl four, 17 inches; knit plain two inches. Sew underarm seams. Pick up stitches around sleeves, knit four and purl four until sleeve is required length. Finish neck and cuffs with anchora wool in a pretty scallop crochet-ed.

KNITTED BLANKET

The beauty of this knitted blanket is in the selection of colors and the fancy knitted center which is impossible to illustrate fully. Needles No 5 are used. Cast on 300 stitches, knit plain 15 inches, knit 50 stitches plain, then with a second color if desired for center, purl 200 stitches, knit plain 50 stitches, knit 50 stitches plain, knit two together, 200 stitches; knit 50 stitches plain. Knit 50 stitches plain, take up the yarn between the stitches, knit first. Place needle in next stitch, wind twice. Then knit stitch, knit 50 stitches plain. Knit 50 stitches plain, knit the stitches and drop the loops, knit 18 1/2 stitches plain. Repeat the last four rows until the blanket is within 15 inches of the desired length. Knit all stitches plain 15 inches. Bind off. Finish edges with scallops.

POND LILY EDGING

A scarf of unusual distinctiveness may be acquired by crocheting this edging in the pond lily design of the unbleached carpet warp and combining it with a fine grade of unbleached cotton. The edge extends entirely around the scarf.

shoring, and sugar. Add the eggs well beaten, the oats, the flour sifted with the cinnamon and salt, the raisins and nuts, and lastly the soda mixed with the vinegar. Mix all together thoroughly, roll out to one-eighth inch in thickness, cut, and bake ten minutes in 400 degrees F. oven. This recipe makes about four dozen cookies. Mrs. I. U. Lehr, 18 South Burnett St., East Orange, N. J.

Household Hints

System in doing the work is just as important as good equipment and the housekeeper whose work "is never done" is often one who never stops to plan out her work to save time nor tries to prevent unnecessary steps by thinking ahead.

Rural school teachers who have planned to supplement the cold lunch carried from home, with some hot soup or cocoa prepared at school, testify that pupils are healthier and make better progress in their school work. Many valuable hints on preparing the school lunch are contained in bulletin No. 72, which may be obtained for the asking from the extension department of Purdue University.

The canning season will be here shortly. Many suggestions on the cold pack method of canning are contained in extension bulletin No. 82 which may be obtained free.

From a half hour to an hour and a half will be saved daily by a dish drainer, a wire rack which holds the dishes after they are washed. Boiling water dashed over the dishes just after they have been cleaned takes away the necessity of drying them with a towel.

Some flowers in the garden will add materially to its beauty. A row of poppies or others which bloom along about the time the vines start to die, brightens up the brown spots considerably.

The REASON WHY

From the "Book of Wonders" copyrighted and published by the Bureau of Industrial Education, Washington, D. C.

What Does Man Mean by Counting Himself?

The expression "counting himself" was originated by the first man who counted. Such a man would count all of his fingers and toes and the result be directly on and appear to follow whoever is looking at it. This is also true of paintings. If a subject being painted is posed so as to look directly at the painter, and the artist paints the picture with the eyes so pointed, then the eyes of the picture will follow you. When you are looking at a picture of a person and the eyes do not follow you, you will know at once that he was not looking at the camera or artist when the picture was being taken or painted.

Why Do I Get Cold in a Warm Room?

I suppose you mean the instances when you get cold while in a warm room even when you are perfectly well. This will happen often when all of the moisture in the room outside of what is in your body, is evaporated by the heat in the room. The remedy is, of course, to keep a pan of water some place in the room as the air has become too dry.

While heat is necessary to evaporate water, the process of evaporation produces cold. The quicker the evaporation the sharper the cold feeling produced. Now your body is continually evaporating the water from your body which comes out in the form of perspiration through the pores of the skin. This is one of nature's ways of taking the impurities and waste out of the body. You know, of course, don't you, that more than one-half the waste material which the body expels from the system comes out through the pores of the skin rather than through the canals.

When the air in the room becomes too dry, the evaporation on the outside of the body proceeds faster and makes you cold. By keeping water in some vessel in the room you keep the air of the room from becoming too dry.

Why Don't the Stars Shine in the Daytime?

The stars do shine in the daytime. If you will go down into a deep well or the open shaft of a deep mine and look up at the sky, of which you can see a circular patch at the top of the well, you will be able to see the stars in the day time. The moon also shines in the daytime, on some part of the earth. At certain times during the month you can notice that the moon rises before the sun sets, and sometimes in the morning you can still see the moon in the sky after the sun is up. Usually you cannot see either the moon or the stars in the day-time, because the light from the sun is so bright and strong that the light of the stars and moon are lost in the brightness of the sun's rays. When the moon is visible before the sun sets or after the sun has risen it is because the light of the sun is not so bright and strong at the beginning or close of daylight. If you are fortunate enough some time to witness a total eclipse of the sun you will be able to see the stars in day-time without having to go down into a deep well or mine shaft.

OF PLAIN AND DOTTED VOILE

Here is a pretty blouse made in surplice style, of plain and dotted voile. The dotted voile is brought about the waist to form a twisted girdle. Three-quarter length sleeves of the plain material are finished with scant flounces cut in points, made of the dotted goods. This blouse is not at all difficult to make and suggests the combination of short lengths of material that could not otherwise be used.

The VALLEY of the GIANTS

By PETER B. KYNE
Author of
"Cappy Ricks"

Copyright by Peter B. Kyne

About two o'clock the following afternoon old Judge Moore of the Superior court of Humboldt county, drifted into Bryce Cardigan's office, sat down uninvited, and lifted his long legs to the top of an adjacent chair.

"Well, Bryce, my boy," he began, "a little bird tells me your daddy is considering the sale of Cardigan's Redwoods, or the Valley of the Giants. How about it?"

Bryce stared at him a moment questioning. "Yes, judge," he replied. "We'll sell, if we get our price."

"Well," his visitor drawled, "I have a client who might be persuaded. I'm here to talk turkey. What's your price?"

"Before we talk price," Bryce parried, "I want you to answer a question."

"Let her fly," said Judge Moore.

"Are you, directly or indirectly, acting for Colonel Pennington?"

"That's none of your business, young man—at least, it would be none of your business if I were, directly or indirectly, acting for that convicted thief. To the best of my information and belief, Colonel Pennington doesn't figure in this deal in any way, shape or manner; and as you know, I've been your daddy's friend for thirty years."

Still Bryce was not convinced, notwithstanding the fact that he would have staked his honor on the judge's veracity. Nobody knew better than he in what devious ways the Colonel worked, his wenders to perform.

"Well," he said, "I can name you a price. I will state frankly, however, that I believe it to be over your head. We have several times refused to sell to Colonel Pennington for a hundred thousand dollars."

"Naturally that little dab of timber is worth more to Pennington than to anybody else. However, my client has given me instructions to go as high as a hundred thousand if necessary to get the property."

"What?"

"I said it. One hundred thousand dollars of the present standard weight and fineness."

Judge Moore's last statement swept away Bryce's suspicions. He required now no further evidence that, regardless of the identity of the judge's client, that client could not possibly be Col. Seth Pennington or anyone acting for him, since only the night before Pennington had curtly refused to buy the property for fifty thousand dollars. For a moment Bryce stared stupidly at his visitor. Then he recovered his wits.

"Sold!" he almost shouted, and after the fashion of the West extended his hand to clinch the bargain. The judge shook it solemnly. "The Lord loveth a quick trader," he declared. "Here's the deed already made out in favor of myself, as trustee." He winked knowingly.

"Client's a bit modest, I take it," Bryce suggested.

"Oh, very. Of course I'm only hazarding a guess, but that guess is that the Colonel is in for a razzooing at the hands of somebody with a small grudge against him."

"May the Lord strengthen that somebody's arm," Bryce breathed fervently. "If your client can afford to hold out long enough, he'll be able to buy Pennington's Squaw creek timber at a bargain."

"My understanding is that such is the program."

Bryce reached for the deed, then reached for his hat. "If you'll be good enough to wait here, Judge Moore, I'll run up to the house and get my father to sign this deed. The Valley of the Giants is his personal property, you know. He didn't include it in his assets when incorporating the Cardigan Redwood Lumber company."

A quarter of an hour later he returned with the deed duly signed by John Cardigan and witnessed by Bryce; whereupon the judge carelessly tossed his certified check for a hundred thousand dollars on Bryce's desk and departed whistling "Turkey in the Straw." Bryce reached for the telephone and called up Colonel Pennington.

"Bryce Cardigan speaking," he began, but the Colonel cut him short. "My dear, impulsive young friend," he interrupted in oleaginous tones, "how often do you have to be told that I am not quite ready to buy that quarter-section?"

"Oh," Bryce retorted, "I merely called up to tell you that every dollar and every asset you have in the world, including your heart's blood, isn't sufficient to buy the Valley of the Giants from us now."

"Eh? What's that? Why?"

"Because, my dear, overcautious and thoroughly unprincipled enemy, it was sold five minutes ago for the tidy sum of one hundred thousand dollars, and if you don't believe me, come over to my office and I'll let you feast your eyes on the certified check."

He could hear a distinct gasp. After an interval of five seconds, however, the Colonel recovered his poise. "I congratulate you," he purred. "I suppose I'll have to wait a little longer now, won't I? Well—patience is my middle name. Au revoir."

The Colonel hung up. His hard face was ashen with rage, and he stared at a calendar on the wall with his cold, phidim stare. However, he was not without a generous stock of optimism. "Somebody has learned of the low state of the Cardigan fortune," he mused, "and taken advantage of it to induce the old man to sell at last. They're figuring on selling to me at a neat profit. And I certainly did overplay my hand last night. However, there's nothing to do now except sit tight and wait for the new owner's next move."

Meanwhile, in the general office of the Cardigan Redwood Lumber company, joy was rampant. Bryce Cardigan was doing a buck and wing dance around the room, while Moira McTavish, with her back to her tall desk, watched him, in her eyes a tremendous joy and a sweet, yearning glow of adoration that Bryce was too happy and excited to notice.

"The Lord Loveth a Quick Trader," He Declared.

Suddenly he paused before her. "Moira, you're a lucky girl," he declared. "I thought this morning you were going back to a kitchen in a logging camp. It almost broke my heart to think of fate's swindling you like that." He put his arm around her and gave her a brotherly hug. "It's autumn in the woods, Moira, and all the underbrush is golden."

She smiled, though it was winter in her heart.

The membership committee calls attention to the fact that the annual fees are payable and collections will be made next week.

The local Art League has endeavored to purchase at least one picture each year. As a result of these purchases and contributions made from time to time by those interested in the Seymour League a collection of fourteen paintings and sketches has been made. The pictures are hung in the High School Assembly room during the school year and in the library during the vacation period.

The exhibit this year promises to be the most successful ever conducted by the League. Arrangements are being made to keep the exhibit open evenings during the time from May 24 to June 10 so that everyone interested may have an opportunity to see the paintings.

LETTER, NEARLY CENTURY OLD, WELL PRESERVED

Mrs. D. M. Hays, in Possession of Correspondence Which She Prizes Highly.

Mrs. D. M. Hays has in her possession two letters which are remarkably well preserved. One of the letters is more than a hundred years old and the other is nearing the century mark.

The older letter was written to Zadock Richards, grandfather of Mrs. Hays, on June 5, 1817, by his brother and wife, Samuel and Elizabeth Richards. The other letter was written by her great-grandfather, John Withrow, on May 7, 1828, to his daughter, Mrs. Zadock Richards, and her husband.

Both letters are carefully written with an even style of penmanship. No envelopes were used in those days. The letters were carefully folded and sealed with wax. The charge for carrying the mail was collected when the letter was delivered. Mrs. Hays prizes the letters very highly as keepsakes. There in her father's possession for many years prior to his death.
